

Marian Jameson has volunteered for the National Trust as a house guide at Runnymede House since January 2013. She had a career of more than forty years as a librarian responsible for a number of specialised government libraries in Canberra and Hobart - for the last sixteen years of her career at the Allport Library and Museum of Fine Arts until her retirement in 2011. She has just completed a book on the artist Lily Allport, due for publication in July 2018.

Marian grew up in Queensland but has lived in Hobart since 1978. She has Post-Graduate diplomas in Librarianship and in Museum Studies and wrote her Museum Studies thesis on scrimshaw collections in Tasmania.
